The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE

Containing the Freshest Advices, Foreign and Domestick.

The Captains Spender and Gardner, arrived at Boston from London, we have the following Advices.

VIENNA, September 19.

ORDERS have been sent for a Body of Sclavonians to march to the Frontiers of Servia, in order to have an Eye on the Motions of a great Body of Janizaries, which the Bashaw of Belgrade has been for some e assembling, under Colour of changing Garrisons. t Officer indeed has sent to the Commandant of blin, to assure him, that it will be contrary to his ers, if they commit any Hostilities; and that, if do, he shall be very well pleased to see them treat- as they deserve; notwithstanding which, our Court olved to take all necessary Precautions to prevent g surprized.

om Russia we hear, that the Empress, upon Ad- from Constantinople, that the Janizaries are re- ed to have a War on the Side of Crim-Tartary, given orders for several Regiments of Infantry to off that Way.

Madrid, Sept. 16. The Manufactures of this King- gain greater Credit every Day, thro' the indefati- le Industry and Attention of our Ministers, and ough the considerable Priviledges which his Catho- Majesty has been pleased to grant to the Work- who are therein daily employed; the Number hereof is so greatly encreased, that there are no less 5000 Hands at present actually employed. Our oollen Manufactures in particular meet with more t common Success, and will be capable in a very rt Time, of furnishing a sufficient Quantity of th for the cloathing of his Majesty's Troops; which of Necessity prove a great Emolument to our ion in general; since the large Sums that were for- ly remitted to foreign Parts for the Purchase of such mmodities, will now be expended within ourselves.

Paris, Sept. 16. The late Edict for obliging the ergy to enroll, within the Space of six Months, the Value of their respective Benches, in every Dio- throughout the Kingdom, gives general Satisfac- to the Laity, the Reasons assigned in that Edict be- equally clear and convincing to the meanest Under- anding, viz. That hitherto the Clergy having le- ed their own Taxes upon their own Body, continual omplaints of the Inequality of such Levies have been ade which this Method can only prevent; that for nt of such an Enrollment, the King cannot form a- Judgment of the Reasonableness or Unreasonable- s of the Requests that are frequently made for Leave grant Lands to the Church; that it is requisite to nvince all his People of his paternal Care, in causing necessary Burthens for the Publick Service to be im- rtially settled, and equally borne, so that none may ve just Reason to repine.

Some Politicians here are of Opinion, that, not- thstanding the Pains which the Ministers of this urt and those of Great-Britain seem to take, in or- to maintain the Peace between the two Nations, airs are nevertheless in Such Situation, as that it uld be almost impossible to regulate them to mutual isfaction, without coming to an open Rupture. One of most important Articles is, the Trade which is car- d on upon the Coasts of Africa. The English pre- nd to have the Right exclusive of other Nations, par- ularly the French: These last do not acknowledge is Right, but maintain, that the Sea is free, and at they are at Liberty to trade thither as well as any ation. Preparations are therefore making in several our Ports to go and traffick upon the Coast of Gui- , and other Parts of Africa; and it is doing in such Manner, as that the Trade will be supported by Force case of Need. On the other Hand, Letters from ndon advise that the English are firmly resolved, cost what it will, to oppose the French in this Commerce. this Article we are told, was one of the Subjects of long Conferences which Mr. Durand, who is char- with the Affairs of France at London, has had with the British Ministry. The other Articles of that Conference, turned chiefly upon the Limits of the Pro- inces which the two Crowns were in Possession of in America, particularly those of Nova-Scotia; and up- on the Satisfaction which this Court demands for the In- ult, which it pretends was committed by the Gover- nor of Nevis against the French Frigate call'd the Ga- thea. The former of these two Articles does not seem to embarrass the British Court much, because such Measures have been taken to put that Colony out of the Reach of being hurt by either the French or Indians in those Parts, that the English are not very anxious about settling these Limits. But the Article of Satisfaction gives some uneasiness; because on that depends the Evacuation of Tobago, &c. or at least this Court makes Use of this Pretence to delay it; and it seems as if the English were not at all disposed to give our Court the Satisfaction which it thinks due to it. These Circumstances, joined to that of the English complaining, that we have not yet fulfilled the Article of the Treaty of Aix, which regards the Demolition of Dunkirk, have but little Tendency to establish a good Understanding between the two Courts.

Extract of a Letter from Algiers, Sept. 20. N. S.

"Commodore Keppel and Mr. Stanyford, Ministers Plenipotentiaries from his Britannick Majesty, have omitted nothing that they thought might conduce to the obtaining a proper Satisfaction for the Demands which the British Nation has upon the Regency of this State, particularly in the Case of the Prince Frederick Packet Boat: But after much parleying, and exhausting all their Rhetorick, they became sensible that it was in vain to talk here of Restitution. Therefore, Mr. Keppel judging it needless to make any longer Stay, took his Leave of the Dey the 18*th Instant, exhorting him to consider once more, that a great King like his Britannick Majesty was not accustom'd to demand Satisfaction in vain; upon which the Dey made him the following Answer.*

"We are disposed to give Satisfaction to the King and the British Nation, for any Thing that may happen amiss hereafter; but as to what is past, if they have had any Cause to complain, they must think no more of it, and bury it in Oblivion. Whilst the Packet Boats of Great-Britain are provided with the King's Passports, they run no Risque of being stopt and seiz'd, no more than the English Merchantmen, if these take care to provide themselves with our Passes; but if either be neglected, the Blame of any Mishap must be laid on those who have been guilty of that Negligence. And when the English Merchantmen will be destitute of Algerine Powers, our Privateers will think they have a Right to take them, and the Cargoes of such Ships shall be confiscated. This is all we can do in this Matter, &c."

Mr. Keppel return'd on board his Ship in the Afternoon, and the next Day the Squadron sailed for Port Mahon, or England, we dont know which.

The Restitution of the Prince Frederick Packet Boat was not the only Point of the Negotiation of the British Plenipotentiaries. They also proposed the granting to their Nation, on the Coast of the Kingdom of Algiers, a Settlement like that which the French African Company has had these several Years past. To which the Dey made Answer, "That a Settlement of this Nature could not but be productive of Quarrels between the two Nations; that moreover, in Case the Regency should agree to it, it must needs be in consideration of some important Service to be done by the British Nation; and that if the English would help the Algerines to recover Oran from the Spaniards, they might be assured, in Return for such Assistance, the Regency would favour them in point of Trade, all along the Coast of Algiers, preferable to all other Nations."

One may easily judge, that Mr. Keppel did not give himself the Trouble of canvassing a Proposition so chimerical, and which the Dey himself could not but be sensible was impracticable.—With their Leave we must observe, that the Dey seems to be a better Politican than those Negotiators; and after all our Bungling with Spain, we may be forced to listen to that, or some better Project, to distress the Spaniards; but certain Folks, till they are sorely pinched, cannot see farther than the Length of their Noses; till then, they have neither Wit to contrive, nor Courage to execute any effectual Scheme.

They write from Hambourg that Mr. Buys, the Dutch Minister there, had presented a Memorial to the Regency, demanding a strict Observance of the Contract made in 1609 between that City and the Republick of the United Provinces, whereby it is stipulated, that the Dutch should enjoy preferable to other Nations, the Right or Privilege of selling there the Herrings of their Taking. The Council having assembled on this Matter, the Majority were of Opinion, that they ought to stick to the said Contract.

Paris, Sept. 28. "Notwithstanding the Opposition made to the Execution of the King's Declaration of the 17*th of August last, about the Revenues of the Clergy, we still flatter ourselves that this Declaration will have the desired Effect, without any Necessity of taking any other Course but Exhortations and gentle Methods. It is certain, that among the Prelates that composed the late Assembly, many were sensible of the Necessity of making an equal Repartition in the Sums levied upon the Clergy, and thereby easing such as are least able to bear the Burthen; For it has long been a scandalous Custom to tax the rich Benefices but lightly, and throw the Load on the Rectors and Vicars, who labour much harder in the Vineyard than the Prelates and Abbots, and whose Income bears no Proportion with that of most Bishopricks, Abbeys, and Convents. And as the Prelates are gone down to their respective Dioceses, the Court will give them a few Days to look about them, and reflect coolly on the Consequences of their Refractoriness. The Ministry are sensible where the Shoe pinches with the Clergy; they do not absolutely refuse to supply the Government's Necessities; but they would do it by Way of Free Gift, and not as a Tax; because in the latter Way the State may at last come at an exact Knowledge of the Revenues of the Church.*

Petersbourgh, Sep. 26. A few Days ago we had Letters from Astracan, dated the 25th past, with an Account, that by Letters come there from Rhesl to several Armenians, dated the 3d of July, there was Advice, that in the Month of May last, there had been a great Plunder made at Ispahan, in which the Natives, as well as the Foreigners, had lost all they had. These Advices add, that there were two Schachs in Persia, the one Ismael, who resides in Ispahan, and the other Sharug, who resides in Mesched, both which had named their respective Governors to go and take Possession of the Province of Gilan; That neither was yet arrived there; but as both had an Army under his Command, it was not doubted but that a Battle would ensue whenever they came.

Amsterdam, Sept. 30. Our last Letters from Madrid advise, that it is now no longer doubted there, but that the Squadron of M. Macnamara is destined for the West-Indies, particularly for Cape-Breton and Canada, and that from Louisbourg there will be dispatched a Man of War and some Frigates for Martinico. This is what we learn from Cadiz, where it touched to convoy some Register-Ships which are bound to the Gulf of Mexico. It is even assured, that the Journey of M. Rouille to Brest was partly to give secret Orders to that Commodore, in Consequence of certain Conferences that M. de Puysieux has had with the Earl of Albemarle, wherein this last has complained, that the French of Canada supported the Indians, and instigated them to give Disturbance to the Inhabitants of Nova-Scotia. M. de Puysieux gave his Excellence for Answer, That the King did not intend that his Subjects in those Parts should do the least Thing to interrupt the good Understanding between the two Courts, and that his Majesty's Commandant there had had positive Orders sent him upon that Subject; that if it happened that the English should entertain any Design to chase the Indians from their Habitations, in order to extend their Dominions, they ought not to think it strange, that in that Case Assistance should be given to these last.

Paris, October 2. According to Letters from Brest, the Frigate that is to carry over M. de Pomp[illegible] the new Governor of Martinico, lies [illegible] Road, but some say she is actually [illegible] the said Port two Ships of the [illegible] which are said to be bound to A[illegible] rently reported, that they will be [illegible] ing a fair, and suppressing an illic[illegible] confirmed that M. de Bompart wil[illegible] King's ultimate Orders to execute [illegible] upon with the English Commissaries, concern speedy Evacuation of the Islands of Tob[illegible] Lucia, &c.---This would be very good N[illegible] did not know how brisk the French are at seizing, how slow to quit Possession.

Cologne, October 16. Of all the Visits which the King of Great-Britain has made to his Electoral [illegible] minions since he came to the English Throne, that [illegible] Year will acquire him the greatest Honour. His Majesty has employed himself in laying the Foundation of a solid Negociation for the Election of a King of the Romans, and conducted it with so much Address, Honour, that we flatter ourselves it is [illegible] brought to Maturity. The Patriot Spiritual Electors of Mentz and Triers have been [illegible] and they are such as no Considerations of Peace or War could ever alter. The [illegible] concluded at Hanover with the Elector [illegible]

...r th... an eminent Divine of the Church of England, will ...ſpeedi...ent over, with the Epiſcopal Character, to ſome of ...onies in America; that Perſons qualified to receive Holy ...may be ordained there, without the Trouble and Expence ...ing a Voyage hither for that Purpoſe, which Step will certainly be attended with great Advantage, and contribute not a little to the Propagation of the Chriſtian Religion, according to the Doctrines, and agreeable to the Diſcipline of the beſt conſtituted Church in the World.

October 5. To-morrow the Right Honourable the Lord Anſon ſets out for the Nore, to go on board a Man of War, and take upon him the Command of a Squadron to eſcort his Majeſty over to England.

October 8. His Excellency the Earl of Albermarle has ſo clearly explained the Sentiments of the Britiſh Court, with Regard to the Diſputes between the two Crowns in America; and the Commiſſioners appointed for adjuſting thoſe Diſputes are ſo well furniſhed with Proofs in ſupport of the Claim made by Great-Britain, that there is no doubt, if the Conferences actually begun on this Subject at the Louvre, are continued, all Things will be adjuſted to the entire Satisfaction of the Publick. [But when?]

It is now ſaid that his Majeſty is expected at St. James's againſt his Birth-Day.

An Extract of a Letter from Amſterdam, dated October 1.

"Our laſt Advices from London bring, that the Engliſh Nation is greatly diſcontented with the frivolous Reaſons given by the French Court for not abſolutely evacuating the Iſlands of Tobago, St. Lucia, St. Vincent, &c. purſuant to the Convention between the two Nations: This laſt alledging, that the French who are mixed with the Natives of theſe Iſlands, ought to be looked upon as effectually naturalized there, or rather more ſo, than the French Refugees who are in England. The French Court, for theſe Reaſons, excuſe themſelves from forcing thoſe People to abandon the Eſtabliſhments which they have gained in theſe Iſlands: So that probably nothing farther will be done in this Affair than demoliſhing the little Forts that were built at the Entrance of the Bays; Works which the Inhabitants, directed by ſome French Engineers, may very eaſily rebuild, and defend with the Cannon which they have taken Care to bury. The taking ſome Engliſh Ships in the Bay of Honduras does not leſs irritate that Nation: Some Repreſentations have been made upon this Subject to the King at Hanover, ſhewing the Neceſſity of ſending a Squadron to the Weſt-Indies, to protect the Commerce and Navigation of the Engliſh Nation, and maintain the Right they pretend it has of cutting Wood in the Bay of Campechy; ſetting forth likewiſe, that ſeveral of the Ships which have been ſeized upon under Pretence of carrying on a contraband Trade, were driven on the Coaſts of the Spaniſh Settlements by bad Weather, and that, according to Treaties, the Spaniards, inſtead of ſeizing them, ought to have given them their beſt Aſſiſtance.

October 9. Advices by the laſt Poſt from Nantz inform us, That an eminent Merchant of that Place, named Welch, had failed for a very conſiderable Sum of Money, moſt of which was owing for Tranſport Ships hired by him for the Uſe of the Pretender's Son whilſt he was in Scotland.

October 10. We are aſſured, from good Authority, that another Regiment of Foot, on the Iriſh Eſtabliſhment, will ſhortly embark for Nova-Scotia, for the better Defence of that Settlement.

October 15. Some of the Guard Ships in the Channel, &c. are ordered into Chatham Yard, in order to be compleatly refitted; and then it is ſaid they are to ſail to the Weſt Indies to be ſtationed there.

It is ſaid that his Majeſty has poſtpon'd his ſetting out from Hannover till Sunday the 28th, on Account of ſome extraordinary Affairs.

October 16. By Letters from Campbell-Town, in Argyleſhire of the 9th Inſt. the two Engliſh Buſſes, called the Bedford and Argyle, had caught near 50 Barrels of fine large Herrings, and had a fair Proſpect of ſoon compleating their Loading.

They write from Amſterdam, that 112 of their Ships had been upon the Whale Fiſhery to Greenland; three were loſt, and ſix return'd empty; the reſt had taken no leſs than 605 Whales, and 15998 Quarts of Blubber; and that their Fiſhery otherwiſe was very ſucceſsful.

There is Advice in Town, that ſome Dutch Ships of Force lately appeared before Dickſcove, one of our Settlements on the Gold Coaſt, and having landed their Crews, made an attempt to carry the Place by Storm; but were repulſed with conſiderable Loſs, and forced to re-embark their Men, and ſheer off.

Extracts of Intelligence from London as publiſhed in Dutch Gazettes.

"The Engliſh and French Commiſſioners at Paris find themſelves ſtopp'd in their Buſineſs by ſome Difficulties about the Limits of the Territories of the two Crowns in America. The Iſland of Canſo, as we are aſſured, is the Bone of Contention: The French pretend it is included in the Dominions of his Moſt Chriſtian Majeſty; and the Engliſh Commiſſioners maintain, that the Crown of Great Britain has an indiſputable Right and Title to that Iſland. If ſo, let them caſt Lots for it, or immediately reſolve to decide the Difference by the Sword; for long Negociations with France never end well.

PHILADELPHIA, January 8.

Part of the PRESENTMENT of the Grand Jury of the City of Philadelphia, made at the late Quarter Seſſions of the Mayor's Court.

THE Grand Jury likewiſe take Notice of the Practice of firing Guns in the Night, before Chriſtmas, and New-Year's Day, and other Times, as a Nuſance extremely troubleſome to the Sick, and others, and dangerous to the City; a particular Inſtance of which Danger happened a few Nights ſince, by a Wad giving Fire to the Roof of a Houſe in Front-ſtreet, and requeſt that the Court will endeavour to take ſuch Methods as they ſhall think fit, to prevent that ill Practice for the future.

And further, we think it our Duty to offer again to the Court, the Conſideration of the Inſufficiency of the nightly Watch, ſo often recommended by former Grand Juries, and particularly by that of the City Seſſions in January laſt. The Readineſs of the Court in concurring with the Sentiments of that Jury, and the general Satisfaction with which the Regulation propos'd was received by the Publick, encourages us to hope that the Court will continue their Endeavours, till they can fully compleat a Deſign ſo greatly conducing to the Eaſe and Safety of the Citizens. The Inſults upon the Inhabitants, by wicked and diſorderly Perſons, taking Advantage of the Weakneſs as well as Irregularity of the Watch, was one Cauſe among others, that induced former Juries to move for a more effectual Security; and we heartily wiſh that by their Remonſtrance and your Endeavours, we had been ſo happy as to have obtained a Law for the Purpoſe; by which we have great Reaſon to believe the Diſturbances the Citizens underwent laſt Summer, and Fall, from ſome pitiful Night Robbers, had in a great Degree been prevented; but with Uneaſineſs we obſerve, that this wicked Practice yearly grows more frequent among us, encourag'd no doubt, by the little Riſque the Villains run of being diſcovered, for want of a Careful and well regulated Watch: And as we are informed that the Aſſembly laſt Year, by a Motion from the Court, and Grand Jury, went upon the Conſideration of a Bill for that Purpoſe, and had made a conſiderable Progreſs therein: We apprehend, its being again repeated by this Court would contribute very much towards compleating the ſame, and with Submiſſion, we earneſtly preſs, that the Court will be pleaſed to endeavour (by ſuch Means as they ſhall think beſt) to obtain a Law, that we may be no longer deprived of the great Advantages and Security that would attend it.

The Inqueſt likewiſe obſerve, from the Preſentments of ſeveral Grand Juries that lie before us, that frequent Complaints have been made of the extream Dirtineſs of the Streets, for want of Paving; by which they are render'd ſo exceeding deep and miry, that Strangers in general, who otherwiſe commend our Regularity, make it their firſt Obſervation, that in this Reſpect we are extremely negligent or unſucceſsful in our Attempts to regulate the ſame. And with Concern we likewiſe obſerve, that for want of Paving, the extraordinary Care and Vigilance of the late Mayor and Aldermen, for cleanſing them, has hitherto proved ineffectual: We therefore entreat, that if this Court cannot find ſome more ſucceſsful Method than has already been attempted, they will be pleaſed to uſe their Intereſt jointly with other Inhabitants, to obtain a Law for compleating ſo uſeful and neceſſary a Work.

JOHN SEARLE, Foreman.

Yeſterday being the Day appointed for opening the ACADEMY in this City; the Truſtees met, and waited on his Honour our GOVERNOR, to the publick Hall of the Building, where the Rev. Mr. Peters made an excellent Sermon on the Occaſion, to a crouded Audience.----------The Rooms of the Academy not being yet compleatly fitted for the Reception of the Scholars, the ſeveral Schools will be opened To-morrow, in a large Houſe of Mr. Allen's, in Second-ſtreet; Thoſe who incline to enter their Children or Youth, may apply to the Rector, or any one of the Truſtees.

N. B. Any person inclining to purchase, who cannot conveniently pay the whole, may have credit, giving good security, and paying interest. Tbctf.

TO be sold, by Thomas Cadwalader, at Trenton, a tract of land, of nine hundred acres, lying about a mile and a half north of the town, it will be either disposed of all together, or divided into four equal parts, it is exceedingly well timbered and watered by several fine streams, one of which the Trenton mills stand on, it has also very good conveniencies either for a grist-mill, forge, or saw-mill. Three hundred acres, and upwards, of it, will make extraordinary good meadow, the timber is very fit for shipbuilding, or scantling for houses, and lies very convenient, near the river Delaware, for transporting to Philadelphia large quantities of cord-wood.

Also a large commodious corner brick house, two stories high, well finished, with three good rooms on the lower floor, and a large entry through it, four good rooms on the upper floor, and four lodging rooms plaistered, in the uppermost story, with good cellars, stone kitchen, garden, and stables, situate in Queen-street, in a very publick part of the town of Trenton, very convenient for any publick business.

Likewise twenty-five acres of pasture land, on the upper end of Queen-street, in Trenton, Sixteen acres of it cleared, and in good fence, with a good new barn, twenty-six feet by twenty.

And five acres and a half of excellent meadow, well cleared, and in good fence, in Trenton.

Any persons who have an inclination to purchase the above-mentioned premises, may have a reasonable time allowed for the payments. Tbctf.

ANDREW LAMB,

Is removed to Mr. Abraham Taylor's Alley, near Second-street, which was formerly a school with good conveniencies, and continues to qualify youth for business, &c. viz.

WRiting, arithmetick, vulgar and decimal, merchants accounts, the Italian method, by double entry, Dr. and Cr. the only true way that is now used; Navigation in all its parts, both theory and practice, viz. Geometry, Trigonometry, and Plain-sailing; Traverse, Mercator, and Parallel Sailing; Coasting, Bearing and Distance of Land, and Current Sailing. All these are geometrically, logorithmically and instrumentally performed. Next the practice, which is the main thing intended; and here I shall give you a complete journal from the Lizard to the Rock of Lisbon, with lee-way and variation allowed each course, and rules to apply them, and an amplitude at sun-rising or setting, and applied to the east and west variation; this is one of the journals that I kept to Lisbon, and is therefore recommended to all ingenious artists, as a pattern for any other voyage; and I can shew several journals of my own works to the American plantations, and one from England to Cape Henlopen, in 28 days, 1748. And to make mercator charts, a new and easy method, and to work any journal in them, which makes a traverse to the mercator charts, and is proved so exact as the proportions in mercators sailing, by the latitudes and longitudes every day at noon; and sheweth the plain tract which the ship made the whole voyage, and a true method to correct all journals, and bring the ship safely to the desired port, which is the only thing intended by a good journal. Also Surveying, Gauging, Dialling, and Spherical Geometry, Trigonometry in all the various cases, and Great Circle-Sailing, applied in several problems, which proves the meridional parts in mercators sailing to a fair demonstration; and the application of all in the most useful and necessary problems in great variety of astronomy. All these are carefully taught and diligently attended, by ANDREW LAMB.

N. B. I teach in their own houses at certain hours, when desired, with due attendance and diligence. I have above 30 years experience in teaching both the theory and practice of navigation.

Sailors, take a friend's advice, be not cheated by land-men, that pretend to navigation; for they know nothing of a sea-journal, which is the principal thing you want to know, and the use of sea-charts: My scholars are qualified to go mates the first voyage, and bring me a good account of their journals. Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtick.

PARIS, Auguſt 21.

THEY write from Sirkes, a ſmall Town in Lorrain, that on the 16th paſt, a Rivulet which runs through that Place, and falls into the Moſelle, roſe ſuddenly 22 Feet above its uſual Depth, which is but two Feet, and ſwept away 33 Houſes, and greatly damaged 27 more, which have ſince been pulled down, as they were crumbling away to nothing. It is computed that 20 Perſons were drowned by this ſudden Inundation, and about 400 more eſcaped with nothing but the Cloaths on their Backs, when the Waters broke in upon them. Marſhal Belleiſle, who is Governor of the three Biſhopricks (viz. Metz, Toul and Verdun) has taken abundance of Care to provide for the Relief of the Sufferers by this ſad Accident. It is hard to account for this ſurprizing Innundation; for, though Sirkes is ſituated at the Foot of ſeveral Hills, yet it can ſcarcely be believed that the Rivulet could riſe to ſo prodigious a Height by any Torrents occaſioned by heavy Rains in thoſe Hills; and therefore ſome are inclined to think, that this Deluge muſt be owing to the ſudden breaking of ſome extraordinary thick Clouds a little above Sirkes, or ſome ſuch Thing as the Water-Spouts met with at Sea in the hot Climates.

Paris, October 12. We learn from Rochfort in Auvergne, that on the 3d Inſtant there fell ſo heavy and violent a Rain in that Neighbourhood, that moſt of the Houſes in that Place, and two whole Villages, were carried away by the Force of the Torrents.

Naples, Auguſt 25. Some few Days ago as ſeveral Workmen were digging up a Piece of Ground in the Suburbs of this City, they found buried deep in the Earth a brazen Statue erected on a Pedeſtal, on which there was an Inſcription, which tho' very much defaced, yet there appeared ſo much of it legible, as to teſtifie that it was at firſt erected in Honour of Roger the VIIIth King of Sicily.

His Majeſty has ordered the ſaid Statue to be carefully conwey'd to his Palace, in order to be depoſited there among a great Number of other valuable Pieces of Antiquity.

Madrid, Sept. 9. By Letters received from Cadiz, we are informed, that a Council of War was held on the 13th of Auguſt laſt, conſiſting of the Director-General of the Marine, and of ten Officers of divers Degrees, belonging to the ſaid Corps, who then made their principal Buſineſs to examine into the true State of the Lieutenant-General the Marquis de Spinola's Caſe, and to conſider on the ſeveral Miſdemeanors which were laid to his Charge, in regard to his keeping the Fleet under his Command at the Havanna longer than ordinary, and afterwards caſting Anchor at Martineco; as alſo, in regard to divers other Incidents in that Voyage; that the ſaid Director-general, and the reſt of the Officers, of which the ſaid Council of War conſiſted, not only with one Voice approved of his Conduct, but pronounced all the Allegations brought againſt him falſe and malicious.

In conſequence whereof his Catholick Majeſty had declared by a particular Edict for that Purpoſe, dated from Buen Retiro, that the Conduct of the General Spinola had been in all Reſpects conformable to the Orders of the Marine; that he had acted with great Prudence and Diſcretion, and that his Majeſty was entirely ſatisfied with the Reaſons he gave for his Detention at the Havanna and Martineco, as alſo with every other Incident of that Voyage.

Conſtantinople, Sept. 17. About the latter End of Auguſt laſt, there was felt ſuch a violent Shock of an Earthquake, that the City of Philopopoli, one of the greateſt Capitals in that Country, was almoſt totally ſwallowed up; and according to the moſt moderate Computation, no leſs than four Thouſand of the Inhabitants loſt their Lives in that dreadful Devaſtation.

The Havock which the ſaid Earthquake has made, has proved equally fatal in the adjacent Parts of that populous City, for moſt of the Villages and Hamblets thereto belonging, have either been thrown down, or overwhelmed by the ſwelling of the Waters of the River Mariza.

Bern, Sept. 23. The extreme bad Weather we have had in theſe Parts, has been fatal to ſeveral Diſtricts in this Country, and particularly laſt Week to Neufchatel, from the overflowing of a ſmall Rivulet, which, in ſupplying that Town with Water, runs into the Lake: This Torrent, from the vaſt Quantity of Rain, ſwelled at that Rate, that the lower Part of the Town was Twenty two Feet under Water, to the unſpeakable Damage of a vaſt Quantity of Goods in the ſeveral Shops and Warehouſes. This was not the only Miſchief, but the Rains falling with the utmoſt Violence, carried away all the Vines in the Neighbouring Mountains, and the very Earth on which they grew, leaving nothing but the bare Rocks; and a few that eſcaped, were utterly deſtroyed three Days after, by a violent Storm of Hail.

Venice Sept. 8. In order to terminate the long Conteſt that has ſubſiſted between this Republick and the Holy See of Rome in regard to the Patriarchate of Aquilea, the Court of Rome have propoſed to divide that Patriarchate into two Biſhopricks; one of the Sees whereof ſhould be at Udina, and the other at Gorice; on the Condition that the former, ſituate in that Part of Frioul, which is dependent on the Republick, ſhould be at her Diſpoſal; and that the Empreſs Queen ſhould be at Liberty to nominate whom ſhe thought proper to fill up the other, which was in that Part of the Province that was ſubject to her Juriſdiction.

Genoa, Sept. 28. By the Captain of a Catalan Veſſel, we are informed, that two Algerine Xebecks, accompanied by one of their own Pollacks, having been upon the Coaſts of Catalonia, they made their publick Appearance at the Mouth of the Eber, and that a conſiderable Part of their Crews had the Aſſurance to make a Deſcent on the Place.

After they had ſet on Fire ſeveral Fiſhermens Huts, they were making Preparations for a further Progreſs into the Country; but a Detachment of Grenadiers, who marched out in order to ſtop their Career, ſoon drove them back to their Shallops, to which they flew with the utmoſt Precipitation, in order to get on board their reſpective Xebecks.

All the Advantages that theſe Algerine Corſairs procured from their Enterprize was this; that they made themſelves Maſters near Peniſcola of a Neapolitan Bark, freighted with Lentils; and another Catalan Bark in the ſame Place, that had no Cargo at all on board; and the Hands belonging to each of them had the good Fortune to eſcape before thoſe Veſſels were ſeized.

By the Captain of a French Veſſel, who arrived in our Port ſome few Days ago from Cadiz, we are aſſured, that two Sallee Galliots had drove a Dutch Ship a-ground on the Shallows of St. Peter.

LONDON, September 17.

Extract of a Letter from Schauffhauſen, Sept. 7. N. S.

"Tho' Matters appear as yet pretty quiet in Europe, one cannot build much upon a Continuation of a Peace. Many Perſons of Penetration in publick Affairs pretend, that a War will probably ſoon break out in Italy; and the Reaſon they give for it is, the want of Confidence among the Italian Powers, and others who have Poſſeſſions in Italy, and their jarring and complicated Intereſts and Pretenſions. Diſtruſt keeps them all upon the Watch; they arm without giving a clear Reaſon for it, each of them alledging the warlike Preparations of his Neighbours as an Excuſe for his own: In ſhort, none of them want a Pretext.

The Court of Vienna takes Umbrage at Spain's ceding her Right to the Milaneze to the King of Sardinia, in Conſideration of the Duke of Savoy's Marriage with the Infanta Maria Antonietta. This is looked upon at Vienna as a maſterly Stroke of Spaniſh Politicks, as it cannot fail of keeping the Houſe of Savoy ſteady in the Intereſt of the Bourbon Family.

On the other Hand, the Court of Madrid thinks ſhe ſees, in the Meaſures taken by the Auſtrians in Lombardy, a premeditated Deſign to recover one Day by the Sword, the Territories which the Empreſs Queen gave up by the Pen at Aix la Chapelle, only thro' an Incapacity to continue the War.

All the other Powers, whoſe Differences have ſhaken, and may yet ſhake Italy, and perhaps all Europe, lay their Schemes very deep, and are putting themſelves in a Poſture to guard againſt any ſudden or unforeſeen Event. Hence the Reſolution taken by the King of the Two Sicilies, to put his Land and Sea Forces on a good Footing. The ſame we may ſay of the Republick of Venice, who deſigns to take ſeveral Regiments of foreign Troops into her Pay, and appoint a Generaliſſimo of her Land Forces. The Court of Turin for a long while ſeemed to be taken up with nothing but Feſtivals, Entertainments and Rejoicings, on Occaſion of the Duke of Savoy's Marriage; but tho' the King of Sardinia has not made any glaring Armaments, we may aver that he is reinforcing his Troops without Noiſe, and that when it is leaſt expected, his Sardinian Majeſty will be found able to bring more numerous Armies into the Field than he did the laſt War. If we may believe thoſe Politicians, all theſe Armaments have not been made upon ſlight Grounds or idle Jealouſies; and Matters are come to ſuch a Criſis in the Cabinet of the principal Powers of Europe, that we may be Spectators of ſerious and tragical Events, much ſooner than is expected. They ſay that Italy which has ſo long been a Bone of Contention between many Princes, is probably at the Eve of a Revolution, which will give it a quite new Face; and that while the Courts of Vienna and Hanover were taking ſo much Pains at divers Courts of the Empire, to get the oldeſt Archduke made King of the Romans, there are Schemes on the Anvil at other Courts for driving the Auſtrians quite out of Italy, and making Kings in Lombardy and Corſica."

We hear, that two Pair of large Ventilators, under the Direction of Dr. Hales, are now placing, on each other, on the lower Deck of the Sheerneſs, at Deptford; which being work'd by ſmall Windmills fixed on the upper Deck, blow at the Rate of 7000 Tons of Air in an Hour into the cloſed Hold; whence it is conveyed thro' the Seams of the Ceiling, or Lining of the Hold, up to the Top of the Gunwell; with Intent to keep the Ship wholeſome, and preſerve the Timbers and Planks from decaying.

Extract of a Letter from Totneſs in Devonſhire.

"At Staverton, about 5 Miles from this Town, ſome Men were employed to gutt the Church-yard, in order to convey off a large Quantity of Water, which by conſtantly lying there, made it inconvenient to Paſſengers: In order to do this more effectually, they were obliged to take up ſome Stones in the Church, when they diſcovered a Vault full of Water: On further Examination they found two Coffins, one of which was quite rotten, and fell to Pieces as ſoon as touched; the other quite ſound, and the Perſon in it as freſh as if juſt then dead. They immediately ſearched the Regiſter, to know how long theſe two had been buried, and found that one was 81 Years ſince, and the other 84; and that none had been buried in this Vault for a long Time before, nor ſince. The Perſon who looked ſo freſh, died Abroad, and was brought home wrapt up in a Tar Cloth to be buried.—Mr. Trip, a very ingenious Surgeon of Aſhburton, diſſected the Body; the firſt Inciſion he made was, from the Bottom of the Belly to the Breaſt; he found his Heart near conſumed, but ſurrounded with Fat; he next opened the Thigh, where the Blood appeared all freſh, all his Limbs were as plyant, as if ſcarce cold; his Beard was grown down to his Navel; upon his being expoſed to the Air, his Countenance began to grow black.—This has occaſioned great Matter for Speculation amongſt the Learned and Curious."

Extract of a Letter from Lorwick, in Scotland, July 16, 1750.

"The 3d Inſtant the Friends Good Will Tender, was diſpatch'd to Bremen with 29 1 half Barrels of Herrings.—Between the 3d and 13th Inſtant the Buſſes took and cured 150 Barrels. The ſame Day arrived the Diſpatch Tender from Hamburg. And on the 12th Inſtant arrived the St. George Tender. Every Thing goes on in the moſt happy Manner: The Men are well ſupply'd, and they do their Duty. There has been in this Harbour ſince my Arrival 130 Dutch, Swediſh and French Fiſhing Veſſels, with 50 Jaggers; and there are about the ſame Number in the Offing. The 4th Current, the Tender who waited to ſerve the early Markets diſappeared.—The Swedes have three Buſſes and a Jagger; they were to have had 15 or 20, but ſomething particular prevented.

The French have only four on the Fiſhery, one of which is returning home, having loſt all her Nets, and many of the Dutch Buſſes have loſt Part of theirs. They unanimouſly agree, that our Nets are better than theirs, and we know that they are better fitted than theirs. They ſay our Buſs Rope is too thick, but that has ſaved our Nets; a great Strain having lain upon them in bad Weather we have had; and we take near ten Barrels to one to many of the Dutch, and more in Proportion than any of them.—The 13th the [illegible]ham came into Baſſa-Sound with 107 Barrels, and the Carteret had then 62 and 1 half. On the 14th in the Evening the Carteret arrived, and all the Fiſh will be repack'd and diſpatched to Hambourg by the [illegible] As alſo the Buſſes out upon the Fiſhery again, th[illegible] recruited with Salt and Cask. The next 50 Barrels taken will [illegible]t by the St. George Tender to London, after which the Buſ- will, if fortunate, complete their Lading, and finiſh the Fiſhery for this Seaſon.

October 3. We hear from Northampton, that on Sunday laſt at half an Hour paſt 12 at Noon, there was a moſt dreadful Shock of an Earthquake felt at that Place, and about 6 Miles round it; a Stack of Chimnies in College-lane were thrown down by it, but no Body hurt: It laſted almoſt a Minute, and much more violent than thoſe felt in London in the Beginning of the Year.

We hear that great Intereſt is making for all the ſixteen Malefactors condemn'd laſt Seſſions at the Old Baily.--For ſome becauſe they are young, and for others becauſe they are old; for ſome becauſe they have good Friends, and for others becauſe they are Friendleſs; for ſome becauſe they are handſome, and Objects of Liking, and for others becauſe ſo ugly, that they are the Objects of Compaſſion; for ſom becauſe they have kept good Company, and are well known, and for ſome others becauſe they were never heard of before.--- At the ſame Time we are informed, that the Robberies committed within a Week paſt, in and about this Town, do at the higheſt Computation amount to ſcarce two hundred.

October 8. We are inform'd, that as ſoon as his Majeſty arrives from his German Dominions, there will be an Act of Grace, which will be the utmoſt Service to this Nation, as Numbers of his faithful Subjects who are Artificers, and willing to ſerve under ſo worthy and good a Prince are in foreign Employ, and dare not return Home, being afraid of a Priſon.

October 9. They aſſure us from Aberdeen, that the Herrings have come in ſuch Quantities upon that Coaſt, that they have been ſold there at 24 for a Penny.

Extract of a Letter from Bourne in Lincolnſhire, dated October 1.

"We had Yeſterday, at One o'Clock, a very ſevere Shock of an Earthquake, which laſted near a Minute. The Bell-Inn in this Town, kept by Mr. Caldecot, ſhook ſo much, that the People, who where at Dinner, ran ſhrieking into the Street, expecting the Houſe to be bury'd; but happily there was no Miſchief done. At Spalding, Holbach, Wiſbech, and ſeveral other Parts, the Shock was felt at the ſame Time."

Extract of a Letter from Leiceſter October 1.

"Yeſterday about Half an Hour paſt Noon, we had here, and the adjacent Places, a ſurprizing Shock of an Earthquake, which laſted but a few Seconds.------The Houſes totter'd, and ſeemed to heave up and down; it was attended with a ruſhing Noiſe, as if the Houſes were falling, and the People were ſo much frighted, as to run out, imagining that their own, or Neighbour's Houſes were tumbling upon their Heads; and in ſome Country Villages, where their Devotions were not over, the People ran out of the Churches fearing they would fall and cruſh them to Pieces.---I do not hear of much Damage done by it here, unleſs it be the falling of a few Slates from one, as alſo Part of a Chimney from another Houſe, and the breaking of a few drinking Glaſſes falling from the Shelves of ſome of the Houſes.---I am likewiſe informed, that a Place called Barton-Overy, about ſeven Miles South by Eaſt from hence, as a Child was ſitting in a Chair, by the Fire, it was forc'd out of it to the Fire, and receiv'd ſome little Hurt by it."

Extract of a Letter from Yarmouth

"The Pelham and Carteret Buſſes have had the beſt Luck of near 500 Veſſels on this Fiſhery, upwards of 200 of theſe are French, ſome of them of 130 Tons and upwards, and carry 30 armed Men each. One of them threatened to run down a poor little Yarmouth Man with his Nets out, if he did not get out of his Way; the Yarmouth Man bid him Run down one of the Britiſh Buſſes; he ſaid, No, they were Parliament Men; but d---mn him he would run him down, for lying in the Way of the Lords of the Ocean, and wonder'd he had the Impudence to fiſh in the Seas belonging to France; however, he bragg'd, and went on.------By the Way theſe new French Seas are not above one Mile and a Half from Leoſtoff."

October 12. The Hudſon's Bay, Fowler, from Hudſon's Bay, is off Dover, richly laden with Furs.----It is hoped the Arrival of this Ship will reduce the exorbitant Price of that Commodity, which has long been detrimental to our foreign Trade.

October 15. 'Tis confidently aſſerted, and we hope with good Foundation, that on Thurſday laſt, in the Night, a Flying Courier arrived here from the Court of Spain, with an Account, That a Treaty, greatly to the Advantage of the Trade of this Kingdom, was ſigned there, between the reſpective Miniſters, on Monday the 24th of laſt Month, and was gone to Hanover to be ratified. 'Tis alſo reported, that the South-Sea Company are taken Care of in this Treaty.

ANDREW LAMB,

Is removed to Mr. Abraham Taylor's Alley, near Second-street, which was formerly a school with good conveniencies, and contin-nues to qualify youth for business, &c. viz.

WRiting, arithmetick, vulgar and decimal, mer-chants accounts, the Italian method, by double entry, D. and Cr. the only true way that is now used; Navigation in all its parts, both theory and practice, viz. Geometry, Trigonometry, and Plain-sailing; Traverse, Mercator, and Parallel Sailing; Coasting, Bearing and Distance of Land, and Current Sailing. All these are geometrically, logorithmically and instrumentally performed. Next the practice, which is the main thing intended; and here I shall give you a complete journal from the Lizard to the Rock of Lisbon, with lee-way and variation allowed each course, and rules to apply them, and an amplitude at sun rising or setting, and applied to the east and west variation; this is one of the journals that I kept to Lisbon, and is therefore recommended to all ingenious artists, as a pattern for any other voyage; and I can shew several journals of my own works to the American plantations, and one from England to Cape Henlopen, in 28 days, 1748. And to make mercator charts, a new and easy method, and to work any journal in them, which makes a traverse in the mercator charts, and is proved so exact as the proportions in mercators sailing, by the latitudes and longitudes every day at noon; and sheweth the plain tract which the ship made the whole voyage, and a true method to correct all journals, and bring the ship safely to the desired port, which is the only thing in-tended by a good journal. Also Surveying, Gauging, Dialling, and Spherical Geometry, Trigonometry in all the various cases, and Great Circle-Sailing, applied in several problems, which proves the meridional parts in mercators sailing to a fair demonstration; and the application of all in the most useful and necessary problems in great variety of astronomy. All these are carefully taught and diligently attended, by ANDREW LAMB.

N. B. I teach in their own houses at certain hours, when de-sired, with due attendance and diligence. I have above 30 years experience in teaching both the theory and practice of navigation.

Sailors, take a friend's advice, be not cheated by land-men, that pretend to navigation; for they know nothing of a sea-journal, which is the principal thing you want to know, and the use of sea-charts: My scholars are qualified to go mates the first voyage, and bring me a good account of their journals. From the Weſtminſter Journal, October 6.

To the AUTHOR, &c.

Long Forbearance increaſes Injuries—— Swift Reſentment cuts off Dallying.——

THUS, Sir, ſays the Man who ſees with deepeſt Concern that the French and Spaniards are making more Advantage of us by their baffling and cajolling Arts, during what we call a Peace, than they poſſibly could have done had open War been continued, eſpecially in the Manner we at laſt found it expedient to carry it on.——

But I have done with this 'Squire TOUCHIT, and am now for a ſort of a Supplement to my laſt (by your Permiſſion I ſhould ſay) and a kind of Apology for my not ſigning then, as I heretofore had done, a TRUE BRITON.——

TRUE BRITON certainly ſignifies ſomething; and I underſtood it to ſignify one, who maugre every other Conſideration, could and would be hearty in the Cauſe, the Intereſt of Great-Britain.——

But when a Mongrel Race aſſume the ſame Signature, and call themſelves by the ſame Name;——that Race I mean, who provided they could ſecure to themſelves what they account their own Property, would be glad they could ſee Great-Britain, and all which appertains thereunto, ſwallowed up by the raging Deep;—— One of whom I find has been hard upon you, has been nettled, has grin'd and ſhewn his Teeth at your Endeavours to urge Britons to have a ſtrenuous Regard to their own Welfare, the Britiſh Fiſhery.——I ſay, ſince this Race of the worſt of Mongrels have aſſumed the Title of TRUE BRITONS, 'tis time I give it up, and if I can get into the Knack of talking ſomewhat manfully in their Strain.——For once, I'll try.

Then—Our dear, dear Friends!——our true, hearty, and natural Allies the Dutch!——a People,—— who have always underſtood our Intereſt, and have advanced it far much better than we could, or ever knew how to do;——a People,——who——in one of the moſt exalted Criſes of Great Britain's Folly and Madneſs, furniſhed her with a Remedy,——ſent her over a moſt GLORIOUS DELIVERER:—who at once quieted the Perturbations of her Peoples Minds, and eſtabliſhed a certain Fund for draining off the Cauſe of that other Branch of her Malady, viz. the Redundancy of the Root of all Evil.

And ſhall we, ungrateful Wretches! tho' we have been told from the greateſt Heighth, yea, and from the loweſt Profundity of rational Politics, that they, our dear, dear Friends, begin to be afflicted and diſtreſſed on account of the Stagnation of their Commerce (not a Word, I beſeech you, of this being principally owing to their not having united their Power to that of Great-Britain, in order to have banged the French when it might have been done:)——Shall we, I ſay, add to their Diſtreſſes? Shall we augment their Afflictions, by preventing them to follow the natural Bent of their Genius, their Occupation and their Calling, by interrupting them in their Fiſhery on our Seas, or by not ſuffering them to enter our Ports and our Harbours when their Intereſt prompts them that Way, for fear, forſooth, of running down or deſtroying a little, petty, paltry fiſhing Boat or two?——

The Engliſh muſt be Fiſhermen, let them go to the Banks of New-found-land as uſual, or to the catching Remains of the Dutch Whale Fiſhery at Greenland, or, let them ſtay at Home and be ſtarved, if they like that better:——For, be this as it may——let the Dutch, by whoſe Politics we were ſaved, and are (may I not ſay?) even now ſupported, always have the free Liberty of traverſing our Seas and our Coaſts, and ſecuring our People at Pleaſure.

He that ſets about to drub a huge Fellow becauſe he is ſtout, and fails in his Attempt, muſt expect to find the huge Fellow abundantly ſaucier. Thus it is Sir, notwithſtanding your cloſe ſpeculative Politicks, between Spain and Spain.——

France, amongſt other Things, would not let us encroach in the Bay of Campeachy, and cut what Logwood we pleaſed:——So we endeavoured, by dry Drubbings, to convince them we had as much Right to do this as they themſelves.——We failed,—and they are building Forts along the ſaid Bay,——increaſing the Number of their Guarda Coaſta's, and tell us in plain Terms——we ſhall not come there at all.—Is not this France we know to be a fierce and powerful Nation.—Item—and we have to remember, that at our laſt Variance with them—when their Magazines were exhauſted, and their Army to all Appearance muſt have periſhed for Want;—France, I ſay, at this critical Conjuncture, prevailed on (I had almoſt ſaid compelled) England to ſupply her Wants, and to ſend her over ample Relief.—How ought we then to tremble at the Thought of having her whole Diſpleaſure poured forth againſt us?——What therefore, if we were to ſecure ourſelves of her Friendſhip, by letting her keep quiet Poſſeſſion of the conteſted neutral Iſlands, and not to ſay a Word more about them?—And, how would it increaſe her ſaid Friendſhip, and her Favour, and her Pity too, if we were to add Barbadoes, and ſome two or three more of our Iſlands into the Bargain?—How eaſy, by this means, might ſhe be poſſeſſed of the whole Sugar-Trade, which ſhe ſo greatly hankers after, and has long and ardently wiſh'd for; and we have ill-naturedly enough, till now, in ſome Meaſure kept out of her Hands?—How beneficial to France would this be?——How add to the Support of the numerous poor Families with which ſhe abounds?

And why might we not as well deliver up Jamaica to the Spaniards, and the reſt of our troubleſome Poſſeſſions in thoſe Seas to whom we thought moſt proper? Some to the Dutch, who appear much more fitted for Contentions and Strivings than we at preſent are?—— Let us do this and retire;——let us confine ourſelves to the Limits which France and Spain ſhall pleaſe to ſet to our Settlements on the Continent, as Carolina, New-England, &c.

Thus Wrangling and Jangling, and the various unpleaſing and unpolite Effects thereof, might be transferr'd to, and diſtributed amongſt our turbulent and not-to-be ſatisfied Neighbours, who are each of them ready to take us by the Noſe even for the Value of a ſingle Straw.—Thus might we ſet them together by the Ears, leave them, and laugh at them, and ſay.—— Much good betide you with your Windward and your Leeward Iſlands, your Bays of Hondoras and Campeachy, your Gulphs of Mexico, and of Florida, to all of which we bid——a laſt Adieu.——And,

What if we were to quite ſettle our Peace with the Spaniards, by giving them up thoſe ſtale Bones of Contention Gibraltar and Minorca?——And what if we were to permit them, together with the French, to have the whole of the Mediterranean and the Levant Trade!——This, by the bye, would ſave us from the Diſcredit of being obliged to it:—And we might alſo, by way of Apology, cry out luſtily,——What have Proteſtant Powers to do with a Traffic carried on by, and only ſuitable to, Turks and Papiſts!

But, before thoſe Things are punctually brought to paſs, before our Fleets are ſet aſide as quite uſeleſs Machines;——let us perform one more grand Feat of Quixotiſm, and be what ſome, for want of due Conſideration, may fooliſhly enough term——the Cat's Paw.——Let us ſend the Man who is ſtill alive, ——he who tumbled the Ports of the Spaniards about their Ears;——he—who would alſo have tumbled the Ports of France about the Ears of Frenchmen, had he been in earneſt permitted ſo to have done:——I ſay, let us firſt ſend this Man with a Squadron ſo powerful, that it ſhall lay the Bulwarks on the Barbarian Coaſt level with the Earth, and open a fair Way for having her inſolent Poſſeſſors, who are an Eye-ſore to the Pride of Spain, and a ſort of Curb to the ambitious Views of France, entirely extirpated.——

I ſuppoſe it will be demanded by ſome of our Wiſeacres, what the Engliſh are to do after all theſe Things are done?——I anſwer, eat Bread, and drink Water, if they can get it; and if they have not Room enough for themſelves and their Cubs, there are ſtill Poſſeſſions to be met with on this terraqueous Globe, no part of which could by the All-wiſe Creator be created as uſeleſs.——New-found-land is not yet thoroughly peopled, and there is a large Tract of uncultivated Country, contiguous to the Weſt and North of Hudſon's-Bay.——

Nova-Scotia, Sir, being a new Scene, had well nigh ſlipt my Notice; of which, I find there may be a Query ſtarted, whether Great-Britain was not a little too raſh, too much in a Hurry to attempt to make a Settlement there, without Permiſſion firſt intreated, had, and obtained of the French.——For I find it to be a Country very well ſeated, and what would be extraordinary commodious for the ſaid French in promoting their Fiſhery at Cape-Breton.——But this, upon nicer Conſideration, will be far more preferable, when cleared, and the Settlements made good: And ſo would the Coaſt on the other Side; I mean Weſtward of the Bay of Fundy, down to the River Sagadahoc or Kenebec Bay, and would furniſh the Means for the French's holding a nearer Correſpondence with their City of Quebec.——

Let us therefore, whilſt the Fit is upon us of doing the utmoſt to pleaſe and to ſerve our Neighbours, make theſe Places fitting, and then let us reſign them to the French:——And ſtill continuing to be enamoured with the Spirit of Peace, of Humility, and of Self-denial, let us retire with what they pleaſe to let us carry off, our Litter and our Lumber (as I even now intimated) North and Weſt of Hudſon's Bay, where we may in all Likelihood dwell for Ages without being elbowed or envied by theſe Enemies to Peace and Tranquility.——

Thus, Sir, I think I have outdone my former Outdoings; have beat the TRUE BRITON, whom you take upon you to contend with, all to Rags; and this too with his own Weapons, in the moſt new Taſte, and the moſt flouriſhing Method. And am, SIR, Your humble Servant, Sept. 10. 1750. A real True Briton, C. P. G.

The Difference between To Day and To morrow.

TO day Man's dreſs'd in gold and ſilver bright:
Wrapt in a ſhroud before To morrow night.
To day he's feeding on delicious food;
To morrow dead; unable to do good.
To day he's nice, and ſcorns to feed on crumbs;
To morrow he's himſelf,—a diſh for worms.
To day he's honour'd, and in vaſt eſteem;
To morrow not a Beggar values him.
To day he riſes from a velvet bed;
To morrow lies in one that's made of lead.
To day his houſe, tho' large, he thinks but ſmall;
To morrow no command, no houſe at all.
To day he's forty Servants at his gate;
To morrow ſcorn'd, not one of 'em will wait.
To day perfum'd, as ſweet as any roſe;
To morrow ſtinks in every body's noſe.
To day he's grand, majeſtick, all delight;
Ghaſtly and pale, before to morrow night.
True, as the Scriptures ſay, Man's life's a Span;
This preſent moment is the Life of MAN.

ANNAPOLIS, November 28.

The Commiſſioners for running the Lines between This and Pennſylvania Government, met at the appointed Time at Newcaſtle; and after agreeing on the Center, &c. we hear, adjourn'd till the 22d of April next.

Decem. 5. We are informed from Talbot County, that a mad Dog there, near the Bay Side, has lately done conſiderable Damage. He bit one Mr. Kemp in the Wriſt; but there is ſome Hopes of his being cur'd. Four Hogs in a Penn, were all bit by him, and died mad.

We have an Account, that a few Days ago, one J——W——e in this County, as he was carrying home one of his Neighbour's Hogs, which he had kill'd with a Deſign to make it his own, having tied the Feet together, and put it over his Neck, he went to reſt himſelf by laying the Hog on a dead Tree, but laying it too far over, the String catch'd him by the Throat and choak'd him, and they were there found dead; ſo they prov'd Executioners to each other.

Dec. 12. We hear that a Death Warrant is iſſued for the Execution of two Negroe Men, condemn'd in Charles County, for Breaking open a Merchant's Store there, in the Night, and Stealing from thence ſundry Goods.

Dec. 19. The Beginning of this Month a Murder was committed in Cæcil County, by a Molattoe Man. He had run away from his Maſter, Mr. Edward Taylor, and was purſu'd by him and another Man, who overtook and were juſt going to take him, but he having a loaded Gun, ſhot his Maſter dead on the Spot. He was afterwards taken and put into Priſon, but is ſince broke out. This Molattoe is Brother to him who was hang'd ſome Years ago for ſhooting Mr. Aquila Hall, in Baltimore County.

On Saturday laſt, two Negroe Men, Bob and Dick, both of them born in this Country, and notorious Rogues, were executed at Port Tobacco, purſuant to their Sentence for robbing the Store of Mr. Mitchell. A vaſt Number of People attended at the Execution.

…ear a special Commission is gone to Somerset, for Trial of Two Negroes there for a Burglary.

December 26. Last Thursday Night, and Friday, we had a violent Storm at North East, with Rain, Hail, and Snow, which we hear has drove a Vessel a shore near Herring Bay, and 'tis fear'd she cannot be got off.

We hear of other Damage done, but as yet have very …ery Accounts.

…nuary 2. We hear from Cæcil County, that the Mollattoe Man Joe, who murder'd his Master Mr. Edward Taylor, is again apprehended, and in that County Goal; A special Commission is gone up, appointing Col. Colvill, Mr. Veazy, Mr. Nathan Baker, Mr. Baxter, and Mr. Rock, to hold a Court of Oyer and Terminer, for his Trial.

Last Sunday Mr. Middleton of this Place, came up in a small Vessel from Norfolk; On his Passage he was taken in the great Storm we had here on the 20th and 21st of December past; but with much difficulty got into Rappahannock River, where the Tide rose Twenty-two Inches perpendicular higher than it did in the remarkable Storm and High Tide on the 7th of October 1749, when so great Damage was done at Norfolk, and other Places.

On Monday last, arrived here Capt. Thomas Spencer, in the Ship Falcon, from Biddeford, after a Passage of Twelve Weeks, having about 20 Felons on Board. Capt. Spencer was a Fortnight in the Bay, and informs us, that in the Twenty-nine Voyages he has made into this Country, he never met with such Weather before, as in the abovementioned Storm, and 'twas with the utmost Difficulty he saved the Ship.

Our Rivers are now so full of Ice, that all Communication with the Eastern Shore is cut off.

PHILADELPHIA, January 29.

The South-East Storm, mentioned in our last, we hear has done very considerable Damage in several Places; such as oversetting small Tenements, tearing the Roofs off of other Buildings, blowing down Fences, &c.

Wednesday Morning last a Fire broke out in a Stable in Front-street, which intirely consumed the same; together with a Joiner's Shop adjoining it; but by the usual Diligence and Activity of the Inhabitants it was happily prevented from spreading further.

One Day last Week a Boy was stopt going into Prison with some Files about him, designed as supposed, to file off the Irons of some of the Prisoners lately committed there.

Yesterday the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Goal Delivery for this City and County, began for the Trials of the Robbers mentioned in our last Week's Paper, when the Grand Jury was qualified, as also several Evidences for the King; and this Day the said Trials come on.

By Capt. Appowin from St. Christophers, there is Advice, that the new Governor of Martineco was arrived; and that two Men of War had sailed from Antigua, to demand the Evacuation of Tobago, and the other Neutral Islands.

Yesterday arrived here Capt. Leak of this Port, from Cadiz, thought for some Time past to have been lost.

Last Week a Dutch Woman endeavoured to get a Sum of Money from Mr. Samuel Noble, of this City, Tanner, in the following Manner; Mr. Noble it seems, had bought a Servant Girl, a Daughter of this Woman's, and for some Misdemeanor of hers, had given her proper Correction; upon which the Mother comes to his House, and abuses him and Family in a very gross Manner, for which he only turn'd her out of Doors; after this she goes to some of her Friends, and advises with them what was best to be done, in order to get this Money; who got her Face and Arms coloured (in a very dextrous Manner) blue, black, and yellow; so that she appear'd to have been terribly beat and bruised, and seem'd to be in a most deplorable Condition. When this was done, her Friends went to Mr. Noble, told him, they were surprized he should use an old Woman in so barbarous a Manner; that she was resolved to prosecute him, &c. but that if he would pay a certain Sum of Money, they would endeavour to make it up; if not, he must go before the Mayor. Mr. Noble, conscious of his Innocence, told them he had not used the Woman ill, nor would he pay them any Money. On which they, with the Woman, went to the Mayor (ready to swear to the Fact) and presented her to him in the seemingly miserable Condition above related. The Mayor (before whom she acted her Part well, by feigning Fits, Faintings, &c.) was shock'd at the Sight, and believed, from Appearances, that she was more hurt inwardly than outwardly, sent for Mr. Noble, and asked him how he came to use the Woman in that cruel Manner? He told the Mayor, as he had done the others, that he had not beat her, and that if it was really so as it appear'd to be, it had been done by some other Person, for he had not done it, and believed there was some Deceit in the Affair. The Mayor then called for Water and a Towel, to know whether it was a Cheat or not, but while the Water was bringing, she got out at a Back-door, and was making the best of her Way off before she was observed, when some People were sent to bring her back. When she was brought back, and the Deceit discover'd, by washing off the Paint, she was in such a Rage, that she tore her Face in a violent Manner, so that the Blood gushed out in several Places, and pinched the Flesh out of her Arms; which made her really appear the pitiful Object she would have had it believ'd Mr. Noble had made her. She was then sent to Prison, and 'tis hoped will receive a Punishment sufficient to deter others from the like Practices. Her Accomplices got off in the Crowd.
